Hi Neil

Can you please advise on options if a 'natural' Principal Designer is not forthcoming within the team?

You see that both the architect and contractor have declined, and Artelia are the only other party who have been involved from design inception – so I am at a loss!

Thanks

Claire,

As discussed at Site meeting unfortunately this is not a role we are able to fulfil.

On all our other contracts the CDMc provider has transferred to become Principle Designer.

Many thanks

Claire,

I know Studio E aren't set up to provide this service at the moment. I'll refer to Steve regarding us taking the role as i'm

Simon

Can I ask if Rydon would be able to take on the role of Principal Designer for Grenfell, or whether you would look to contract this out to Studio E?

Can you please consider this request urgently as I understand that the role changes from 5 October? Artelia are preparing a handover pack, as their Professional Indemnity won't allow them to take on this changed role.

Thanks
