Hi Michael

Would you be around on 19th ?

How long would each one take.

They want to know what improvements / component replacement we could do before works commence to improve reliability when down to one lift. I will brief you on the morning if that's cool and meet you on site.

We will also then just require a very quick joint inspection for pre condition the day they start works.

Thanks

Anthony,

Cost to carry out a full condition survey for two lift's would be £1,020 and I could do this on Thursday if convenient.

Out of interest what are they doing as I have these down as 2006 in my records?

Thanks,
