Still awaiting green light from fire consultant that the FR range will have a good chance of passing the test. What we have paid the £1000 so far for.

Once we have this confirmation we will begin designing the test rig and overall system and book the rig with BRE. At this point we will need to pay for the main test. Best estimate as it sits today is this will be an October spend with test sometime in November.

Jon will provide more detail when he returns from holidays w/c 9th September.

Cheers
Paul

Yes I have £25k left if you ask nicely enough!
When do you need it?

Joe,

As discussed can you pass on a budget code and signature for the above invoice. We'll also be receiving a further invoice for consultancy fees of circa £300 within the next week to settle too.

PE was keen to look to fund above 18m testing ourselves if the finance was available from your NPD budget. As you'll be on holiday from tomorrow, can you indicate whether or not there is £25k left for the remainder of this year to cover above 18m subject to our consultant giving us the green light within the next 5 days.

Any questions, give me a call.

Thanks
