Good evening Abigail

Thank you for the attached report, the heading "fan lights" has not been ticked yes or no, this may be because the inspector has included two different sites and multiply doors on one report, the ones in King Charles House have fan lights, the Grenfell ones do not, please see the photos attached.

Otherwise as far as the fire safety side would go, very good and no other comments apart from he called them "external doors" which they are not as defined by the Building Regulations, they are flat entrance doors off an internal fire protected area.

Carl

Abi, good afternoon
This is one more Site Visit report for this programme.

The total number of door inspected so far including my visit on 6.06.11 is 45 which is 28% of required number to be inspected.

Abi, please let me know if you have any questions

Kind regards
