Thanks John, very helpful. We identified the red person and sent them over but they were told to stay away because of the situation. Happy to send them back again and will give you a name.

On the housing situation the SofS is very anxious about the family. They were very distressed when he spoke to them this morning. Lizzie is at our offices and is talking to your housing team but anything you can do to help would be great.

Would be good to talk, but let me know when suits you as I know you are extremely busy.

Jo:

Onto the comma issue - not the line out from here but checking where we are on this. Will revert. No change though in the decisions etc.

On the housing point - not helpful and will give details for fixing the specific issue ... on the support reversion - we need it and will raise with the Housing people. Do we have the RED person identified as yet? Mark Sawyer would be point person for me on this.

Happy to speak - post our local group meeting in a moment.

Ta, J

John

We spoke. A couple of issues which have been fed back to us:

Communications - both the Secretary of State and Housing Minister have concerns about an RBKC communication which has said that they would be exploring housing options in other parts of the capital, which is different that the statement made by Ministers about the local area. I believe the press have picked up on this;

Housing - I have had contact from Laura Johnson who has said she is having trouble housing a family - who the Secretary of State spoke to this morning - in a house, but has found hotel accommodation. She suggested the family are not happy with this. Separately I have had a call from a Councillor who said they have found a house for the family. We have given a commitment to help with funding, but I think this is more a matter for the Council than DCLG so would be grateful if someone could pick this up. We have given a housing person from DCLG to the Council but Laura has said she has sent her away until Monday. I am not sure this is helpful as our person, Lizzie, is a useful way back into the department if there are issues.

Thanks for your help

Jo
