Page 9, para. 37	1	N/A	The Westway was transformed at the end of the weekend of 17 and 18 June 2017 into a "humanitarian assistance centre" (HAC). The purpose of HACs are to provide a place where individuals can continue to go for support, information and assistance once their immediate basic needs have been met by the rest centre. Rest centres typically operate for only 24 to 48 hours in the aftermath of a major incident, but the one at the Westway was run for longer as there was a delay in providing a few of those affected with appropriate temporary accommodation.
Page 14, para. 63	2	N/A	Having reflected as an organisation in the aftermath of the Grenfell Fire and the other events of the summer of 2017, we now are of the view that it may, in certain circumstances, be necessary for the BRC to self-deploy proactively where it feels to do so would serve a clearly unmet humanitarian need, even when not expressly asked to assist by a local authority. I discuss this matter further at paragraphs 135 to 142 below.
