Subject: RE: KALC Items

Dear Laura and Peter

Regarding the issue of reports of power surges by some residents of Grenfell Tower;

we can report that Leadbitter is not at this time carrying out any works which involve high voltage electricity. We would also note that surges of this nature, could only come through the transformer located in the tower basement, from the Grid. We have suggested that the TMO contact DNO (UKPN) for further investigation.

We have advised the TMO of this as the question had come up in a meeting with them.

I trust this is in order.

With best wishes.

Liz
