Thanks for this Damian

Clearly we need to consolidate these work streams

I would suggest

- Reviewing the existing high rise package to see if it offers us a useful starting point
- Contact the two Commissioning Officers and seek their agreement to one package which will cover off the learning outcomes of both the Lakanal Hse Rule 43 stuff and the launch of this high rise policy (which should reflect the lessons learnt from Lakanal!)
- If they are agreeable produce one TCAP which covers the needs of both requests and keep both the commissioning officers on board as SMEs to ensure we meet their respective requirements

Any problems let me know

Best wishes

Kev

Hi Kevin

If we were left in any doubt that about repeating ourselves for High Rise training, see the attached new TCAP for High Rise Training based on the new policy.

At a glance the package on the support icon covers off and could be amended to cover the requirements.

Thanks

Damian

Hi LDS

Another TCAP for you.

This draft policy 633 – High rise firefighting, has been sent for Heads of service (HoS) consultation, with feedback due by 13 August 2013. The policy has been reviewed against GRA 3.2 – Firefighting – In high rise buildings. This GRA has been written by the LFB and consulted on nationally as well as with London RBs.

Due to the prior consultation, the head of operational procedures does not anticipate any significant changes to the draft following consultation with HoS and BJCHSW.

As this is a risk critical and high profile policy can Babcock be encouraged to begin their new design and review of existing training as soon as possible please?

Attached are the TCAP, GRA and draft policy.

Kind regards,

Pat Utting
