Subject: Grenfell Tower - fire alarm systems

Claire

I've looked at the fire alarm provision again in view of your comments this morning. I believe that we could dispense with the fire alarm system for the boxing club but both the offices and the nursery will each need their own system. However, given that the nursery is a totally separate tenancy with no physical connection to the remainder of the building, there would be no need for the two fire alarm systems to be connected to each other. As this is at variance with the RBKC building control requirement we will have to agree this departure from the agreed fire strategy with them.

Kind regards

Terry
