Morning Claire

I thought I'd drop you a quick note to let you know that we had a successful kick-off meeting at Grenfell last week with Rydons and JS Wright. A couple of things cropped up which you may be able to comment on;

- JS Wright understandably had some questions around the smoke extract system - has this been taken further with Building Control following the issue of our updated smoke extract report some months back?
- I understand that there has been a 'minor' VE process recently, could you/Simon provide details of what this entailed?

Other items included potential alternative manufacturers for boilers and HIUs, and general discussion of the scheme. JS Wright will begin submitting questions to us formally this week.

Kind regards,

Matt
