

POEM

Camouflage cladding in the sunlight did glisten

Veiling deprivation from the rich who pass

Speaking out when no one would listen

Ignored, ridiculed, treated as sub second class

Safety disregarded to avoid wasting a penny

Prioritising optics for the wealthy neighbours instead

Now we're demanding justice for the many

Because one fatality's, one too many dead

Loveland 2017