Hello John,

Please find attached manufacturers literature together with the final version of BRE Fire Test Report 295369 – as sent to us by Celotex recently as a follow up after our factory visit.

I think it will be useful if we can meet up soon with you and Steve to discuss what this information actually represents in terms of fitness for use on facades over 18m and Building Regs. compliance.

I'm planning to review the contents of this report with Graham later on today.

Best Regards
