Subject: Health, Safety and Security at Grenfell Tower

Dear Ms. Wray

In the event that one of the emergency services receives an urgent callout to attend to a problem in Grenfell Tower – such as a fire within a flat – how they will easily locate the address? There are no signs, either beside the lifts or in the lifts, to indicate the new floor numbers where the flats are located. The previous very sensible numbering system has as you know been changed, causing significant confusion, especially for visitors. If the emergency services had to attend a flat urgently, this is not helpful.

Please do not just put up a temporary piece of paper setting out the new floor numbers. Each time this has happened it has been removed.

I would appreciate a swift response.

Many thanks.

Cllr. Judith Blakeman
