Ben,

Can you deal with this please , 185 is a problem property and is questioning the quality of the install.

He will shout this from the roof tops if not resolved promptly

Hi Simon

I just received a text from David Collins in flat 185 stating that he found a part of the window installation hanging loose this morning he has taken it into his house as he didn't want it to fall 18 floors and also that there is some polythene on the back of one of the cladding panels which is blowing in the wind and has nearly come off (on the north facing side) he has asked if this can be taken off safely

Thank you

Simon,

Can you please forward this on to Lynda as I do not have her email.

Please see attached however, this was last updated June 2013.

Dave,

Can you confirm if there have been any new RTB's in Grenfell since then? I'm not sure how to look these up
