Subject: window trim 135

Andy,

Carl told me that you visited flat 135 with him yesterday which I inspected over a week ago. One of the vertical trims to a small window in living room is too close to the window which is catching on it. It might create a problem in the long run. Could you please, redo the trim so it is the same as other windows where there is gap between window and trim.

Kind Regards,

Chris Holt
