Peter,

Reynobond's BBA certificate includes the following statement regarding service life: "(The product) has an ultimate service life in excess of 30 years...can be expected to retain a good appearance for up to 20 years"

VMZinc (roof): "Roofing constructed with the sheets will have a minimum service life of 60 years..." (You would expect an even longer life when used as a façade cladding)

Zinc and ACM are not equivalent in terms of service life.

Sorry Bruce, Claire got back to me with some comments and said that she was then happy for the minutes to be circulated. Her comments appear to be similar to the ones that you have made so far – in particular she forwarded an email conversation that the two of you had regarding point 1.2.

If you still think that anything is unclear, then you can send me your comments and I will circulate them to everyone.

Kind regards,

Peter
